Friday, 23rd March, 1793.

Thomas Collins Drew appeared in behalf of himself and the below-mentioned petitioners. Ordered that as it appears Mr. James Fulton was a Captain in His Majesty's service, and that Mr. Drew has resided in New Brunswick, which he left on account of the inclemency of the climate, a township is granted to them, not doubting but that they will give a preference to persons of a similar description.

Read a petition signed Thomas Collins Drew, James Fulton, Henry Nace, John Peck, Joshua Quinton, and John Quinton, and numerous associates, praying for one township.

8th October, 1796.

Read the petition of Capt. James Fulton, and Thomas C. Drew for selves and associates, stating that they waited to know the terms on which townships were granted, and praying to be re-instated in the townships of Rawdon and Huntingdon which had been granted to them, and were declared open by Proclamation in May last. Ordered that the petitioners be informed in answer that the Board does not judge it expedient to re-appropriate the townships prayed for, but that in consideration of the matters stated in their petition Messrs. T. Drew, Edward Campbell, John Norton, and Samuel and Joseph Willard may receive 1200 acres each upon their becoming residents in this Province and applying for the same, which is the largest quantity of land they could have received on any consideration; and if any persons have been settled previous to this date in the townships of Rawdon and Huntingdon under their sanction they shall be confirmed on their complying with the mode pointed out by notice from the Surveyor General's office at sundry times, and more particularly in September last. And that His Excellency Lieut. Governor Simcoe's Proclamation dated the 7th February, 1792, sufficiently explains the terms on which lands are granted in Upper Canada.

Petitions read 11th July, 1796.

Captain James Fulton, King's American Dragoons. Praying for 3000 acres. It having been reported on proper authority to the Committee that 700 acres were granted to petitioner by the Government of New Brunswick, and sold by him, it is recommended that the remaining quantity as a reduced Captain of Provincials due to him may be granted upon his becoming a settler within this Province.

Petitions read 13th July, 1796.

Captain Fulton, Thomas C. Drew and associated. Stating that in the year 1793 they received an Order in Council to settle the township of Huntingdon, to effect which they have gone to a great expense, that they will give ample security to perform all the terms and conditions which it may be deemed necessary to stipulate, praying to be informed what number of families are necessary to complete the settlement of said township, and within what period of time they are to be settled thereon, and that in the meantime their claims as original grantees may remain open. The township of Huntingdon having been declared to be vacant by His Excellency the Lieut. Governor's Proclamation bearing date the 25th of May, 1796, the Committee recommend to Your Excellency not to grant the prayer of this petition as no reasons appear to be adduced therein which entitle the petitioners to a new appropriation.

that their claims as proprietors may remain open. The townships prayed for having been declared open by proclamation will not be again appropriated to the petitioners. The Lieut. Governor's Proclamation dated 7th February, 1792, sufficiently explained the terms on which lands are granted in Upper Canada. Mr. Drew, Mr. Edward Campbell, Mr. John Norton, Messrs. Samuel and Joseph Willard may receive 1200 acres each upon their becoming residents in this Province and applying for the same, as they never could have received more. If any persons are settled in the townships they may be confirmed by following the method pointed out by the Surveyor General's office in September last, being a repetition of former notices.

Township of Whitchurch.

1803--James Fulton was an original patentee of portion of land.

Charles Chamberlain (American Novelty Works--Leather, Fancy Goods, Etc.) was born at Richmond Hill, York County, 1845. His father, Ryal Chamberlain, was born in the United States in 1796; he came to Canada in 1814, and settled at Richmond Hill, where he engaged in the business of farming and building, which he carried on there until his death, August 5th, 1867. The mother of the subject of our sketch was a daughter of Colonel James Fulton, a U.E.L, who served in the War of 1812. He was born at St. John's, and came to settle in York County in the year 1792. They were the first family who located on Yonge Street, a family of the name of Miller being the second. Colonel Fulton first went to Elgin Mills, but eventually settled in Markham. He died in 1834. When twenty years of age, Mr. Chamberlain began business in Toronto as builder, of which trade he had acquired a knowledge from his father. He continued in this business until 1875, when he commenced as a property speculator. A great many buildings have been erected in various parts of the city by Mr. Chamberlain, notably the block where he at present resides, called Chamberlain's Block. He has also built in the north-east part of the city one hundred houses, forty-three on Guildersleeve Avenue, of which he sold twenty-four to C. F. Guildersleeve, of Kingston. During the present year Mr. Chamberlain has entered upon quite a new line of business to that he has hitherto conducted. At the American Novelty Works, 90, 92 and 94 Duke Street, are manufactured children's toys and useful domestic articles, baby carriages, velocipedes, express waggons, wheel-barrows, sleds, etc. A large amount of cane and willow is used in the construction of these articles, which is imported from the United States. The establishment is in charge of a most skilled workman, and the work turned out excels anything seen in this market, and equals any in the world. The American Novelty Works is the largest of its kind in Canada. Mr. Chamberlain married Esther, second daughter of Edward Smith, of Whitby Township.

James Chamberlain, hotel-keeper, Toronto, was born in this city in 1847. His father, Erial Chamberlain, was born in Albany in 1793, and at the close of the War of 1812 removed to Canada, and located on land about fourteen miles out of Yonge Street, where he lived until his death. His mother was Mary Fulton, who was born in Richmond Hill. Her father was Colonel James Fulton, who fought in the War of 1812 and who died of Cholera at Little York. While the custodian of some valuable despatches, he was taken prisoner at Niagara by some Americans, but managed to get away from them; he was followed to an hotel which was surrounded all night by a guard, and in the morning was again taken prisoner, but again effected his escape. Mr. Chamberlain's maternal grandmother was a Munshaw, the first family to settle upon a farm on Yonge Street. The Munshaws came to Little York from Pennsylvania in an ox-cart by way of Hamilton. Mr. Chamberlain has been in the hotel business for about four years and is married to a daughter of William Runston, of this city. His brother Charles, a builder, lives at 450 Parliament Street. When the Munshaw family landed in Little York, one log building used for a custom-house was all the signs of civilization to be seen.

Munshaw.

Nathan Munshaw, lot 35, concession 1, Township of Markham, ~~is the second son~~
~~of a family of twelve children his father was~~ The family originally came from Pennsylvania. The grandfather, Balsam Munshaw, a U. E. Loyalist in company with Isaac Devins, came to Canada with Governor Simcoe, and settled in the Township of Markham. The subject of this sketch was born October 22, 1884 (?), on the lot where he now resides. His father's name was William; his mother was a daughter of the above-mentioned Mr. Devins. It is claimed for the eldest sister that she was the first white child born in York. Mr. Munshaw, sen'r, died July 13, 1846; his wife died June 27, 1881. Nathan married in 1869 to Miss Jane E. Martin, by whom he has three children. He has greatly improved the homestead since his father's death, by erecting new buildings and planting trees. His eldest brother, William M., lives with him and has an interest in the property. Mr. Munshaw has not been an office-seeker, being contented to attend to his own business. He is a member of the Methodist Church, and a consistent Christian.
